GLOSSARY

Mutual funds typically have a payout (distribution) of dividends and/or capital gains to shareholders. Until the payout date, dividends and capital gains awaiting distribution are included in the fund's daily net asset value (NAV).

Ex-Dividend Date (aka 'ex-date'): All shareholders who hold purchase shares on this date or after are not subject to recent distribution. This is typically the business day after the record date. On the ex-date, a fund's share price drops by the amount of the distribution that will be paid for each share, not including adjustments for market fluctuations.

Income Distribution: Depending on how a shareholder's account is set-up as of the Record Date, they will either receive a check (or credit to their account) for the payout, or the distributions will be reinvested for additional shares.

Long-Term Capital Gain: All shareholders in non-qualified accounts as of the Record Date will be subject to long-term capital gains. For current capital gain rates, please visit the IRS website.

Payable Date (aka 'pay date'): All shareholders as of Record Date will be mailed (or credited in account) their Income Distribution.

Record Date: All shareholders who hold shares of a fund on this date are eligible for distributions.

Short-Term Capital Gain: All shareholders in non-qualified accounts as of the Record Date will be subject to short-term capital gains. For current capital gain rates, please visit the IRS website.

Total Distribution: Simply the sum of Long-Term Capital Gain, Short Term Capital Gain and Income Distribution amounts.

Mutual Fund Risk Disclosure:

Mutual Funds involve risk including possible loss of principal. The Fund will invest a percentage of its assets in derivatives, such as commodities, futures and options contracts. The use of such derivatives and the resulting high portfolio turn-over, may expose the Fund to additional risks that it would not be subject to, if it invested directly in the securities and commodities underlying those derivatives. The Fund may experience losses that exceed those experienced by funds that do not use futures contract, options and commodities.

Changes in interest rates and the liquidity of certain investments could affect the Fund's overall performance. The Fund is non-diversified and as a result, changes in the value of a single security may have significant effect on the Fund's value. Other risks include credit risks and investments in fixed income securities, structured notes, asset-back securities, and foreign investments.

Furthermore, the use short positions and leveraging can magnify the potential for gain or loss and amplify the effects of market volatility on the Fund's share price. The Fund is subject to regulatory change and tax risks. Changes to current regulation or taxation rules could increase costs associated with an investment in the Fund.
